Foreword

AS we graduates enter the new half-century, we are entrusted with a great task: guiding America to a new, better, more peaceful life.

Just as our comparatively young country has overcome its past obstacles, including two of the most devastating wars of all time, so have we, the Class of 1950, learned through school life to meet and overcome barriers. Like our nation, we too are on the verge of a new life, groping toward higher standards: more education, a satisfying career, and self-improvement.

We hope for the strength and wisdom to meet the demands that life will lay upon us. Let us take the scientific advancements and the world organizations already created, to promote world peace and lead America forward to heights as yet undreamed of.

What we have already accomplished during our high school days is presented in this, our yearbook.

Dedication

IN sincere appreciation, we, the Class of 1950, dedicate our Cayugan to Mrs. Irene Shannon, our class adviser. Not only did she offer friendly help in all our class activities, but throughout our high school years, she spent long hours of extra effort to help us achieve our scholastic goal. Thus, both as a teacher and adviser, she has earned our enduring gratitude.

To our principal, Mr. Kling, and our Cayugan adviser, Miss Huber, we also extend our appreciation for their efforts and co-operation with us.

THE most important new organization formed at Lancaster High this year is our chapter of the National Honor Society. Its charter members were installed in November at a solemn ceremony conducted by the Hamburg High School organization.

To be eligible in scholastic rating, a senior must be in the upper one-third of his class. But his service to the school, leadership in its activities and worth-while organizations, and his own high personal character and behavior are just as important. To be chosen for this group is a goal that every future senior will hope to achieve.

THE Dramatics Club, a new organization, was started this year by a group of students interested in acting and producing for the stage. Membership was granted to those in sympathy with the purpose of the club, after qualifying in a screening test.

Under the direction of Mrs. Brady, the club hopes to learn the art of the drama and stage some productions. Its officers are: Charles Coykendall, president; Carol Szczukowska, vice-president; and Ronald Mills, secretary.

MAROON ORACLE

The Buffalo Area Junior Red Cross Council is getting to be a traveling council. On January 14, we went on a tour of the new Veterans Administration Hospital.

When we first entered the building, we were shown to the Red Cross Office in order to get rid of our coats and rubbers. Then, while waiting for the rest of the "gang" to show up. we explored the spacious lobby. One of the things that interested us was the silver shovel which turned over the first piece of earth for the erection of the hospital.

We were then introduced to General H. E. Fuller, the manager of the hospital. It was he who took us on a tour of the hospital.

We saw solariums, where patients could go to rest up in the sun, serving kitchens, visitors rooms, physio therapy room, hydro therapy rooms, a massage room, an exercising room, the radio room (the hospital has its own radio station), Xray treatment rooms, several of the 15 operating rooms, the emergency operating room, the laundry, the garage, the big kitchen, and the post office.

When we left the hospital, several girls wished that they could become nurses and work in such a wonderful place. If you have a chance to visit the hospital, why not do so? You will then realize every word of praise stated here is the truth.

ART NEWS

Something new has been added to the Art Department —a rug weaving loom. It was decided at a recent Art Committee meeting that all weaving done on the loom would have to be done on the students' own time after school. Each person must pay for his own supplies. The only exceptions to this will be the persons who help to wrap the loom and winners in the Christmas wrapping paper sales contest. Great enthusiasm has been displayed in this project. The art committee is trying to acquire another smaller loom on which to do pattern weaving in the future.

WHAT PRICE TESTS

Have you noticed a change in the appearance of the LHS students lately? There are still the same faces and the same groups of friends talking after another day of toil, but—books—yes, that's it — anything from geometry to Latin can be seen tucked neatly under arms, and in cases. There is a worried look on the class-cutup's face; he somehow has a green cast about him.

What is the answer to all this? It is only one week until mid-year exams, and some people are just plain scared.

Remember that night when the history assignment was to be done, but everyone knew that we played Williamsville, and who could miss a game like that? The hayride had been such fun, but maybe, with a little more effort, that —"lab" paper could have been done earlier.

Thoughts, excuses, worries, promises, all running through the students' minds, but they'll go to tests determined to do well after that last week end of mad cramming.

points respectively. A good floor game by Yost, Davies, and Germain helped to net 15 points for Bellas and 10 points for Petrasio.

SENIOR PLAY CAST ANNOUNCED . . .

"Adam's Evening", one of the cleverest 3-act farces ever devised to drive an audience into hysterics, will be presented in the L. H. S. auditorium on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, November 22 and 23.

Anxious Adam, a victim of circumstances, made famous by Edward Everett Horton in Universal's hit movie, based on this play, will be portrayed by Konrad Maier.

Adam's trusting little wife, who can hardly believe the conclusions the typical mother-in-law draws from his adventures, will be played by Jane Gregory.

Betty Basinski will characterize Mrs. Bean, the typical mother-in-law.

Gertie and Casper, the two laziest Negro servants who ever drifted across a scene, will be portrayed by Marilyn Nevins and Paul English.

Rosita and her jealous husband, Dr. Fragoni, will be played by Joan Pautler and Gary Davies.

Rodney Graves will be featured as Elmer Green, a wild-eyed "nut" who wants to die.

The part of hard-boiled Mr. Cokes, who ought to be dead but isn't, will be taken by Ray Kraatz, and his extra hard-boiled wife, who wishes he were dead for the insurance, will be depicted by Arlene Waterstram.

To help the school function more smoothly, student committees have been set up in the Art Department and the Library.

The art committee arranges exhibits in the display cases, besides planning for student participation in the downtown merchants' Halloween contest and other art competitions.

The library staff assist in checking books, re-arranging shelves, collecting overdues, and speeding up the procedure for the library's hundreds of weekly customers.

Senior History

"KNOWLEDGE comes, but wisdom lingers," the class motto adopted in our Freshman year, has been the keynote of all our activities during these four eventful years at Lancaster High.

The high-lights of our first year as an organized class were a successful minstrel show and our Junior High graduation. We chose blue and gold as the class colors, and the talisman rose as the official flower.

Then, in the Sophomore year, with Mrs. Shannon appointed as our class adviser, we elected Don Schneider, president; Mary Ann Chaves, vice-president; and Mabel Hess, secretary-treasurer. That year we carried on a most profitable magazine sales campaign. The biggest event of our second year was the Sophomore Hop, with its theme of "Blossom Time."

As Juniors, we again elected Don Schneider president; Glen Roll was chosen vice-president; Ellen Mae Snyder, treasurer, and Mabel Hess, secretary. We conducted a skating party, the sale of ornamental auto plates and the Junior Prom. Its climax was the coronation of Eugene Giorgini as King, and Dorothy Becker as Queen.

Now we have reached our goal as seniors! This year we again chose Don Schneider for the responsible position of class president; Eugene Giorgini as vice-president; Lois Primas, treasurer, and Ellen Mae Snyder, secretary. Our activities began with a skating party, followed closely by a Christmas card and stationery sale. We staged a popular comedy, "Adam's Evening", and an enjoyable Sadie Hawkins Dance. The traditional Senior Ball was held in February at the Masonic Temple, with Carnevale's Hotel Statler Orchestra. A final event for this year will be the splash party in April.

As a unit, our class will end its history at graduation this June, but none of us can ever forget the memorable events of these four happy years. We can truly say, looking into the future, that we are half completed, and looking forward to college or our useful careers.

Mabel Hess, 1950

THE L. H. S. Varsity basketball team enjoyed a successful year, considering the fact that most of the boys had never played together before. The team elected Joe Olszewski captain, and was coached by Mr. Hulbert, who did a good job in this, his first year at Lancaster. With three league games left, the Varsity has a record of five wins and six losses. With Coykendall, Cleveland, Rohl, Parks, Fabiniak, and Kelly returning next year, an even finer winning team is in the making.

THE Junior Varsity team of 1949 - 1950 has won three games to date, with three league contests still left. Under the coaching of Mr. Java, their experience this year should prove a great asset to help build up a good varsity group next season.
